

Scott Lauds Technocracy At Assembly

Founder, Director of Technocrats, Quotes Statistics in Speech Before Student Body Last Friday.

'NRA IS MERELY SOUP'

Technocracy as a solution for America's social, economic, and political ills was outlined in an address bristling with figures by Howard Scott, founder and director of the Technocrats, at assembly Friday, March 9.

"Technocracy would consolidate the North American continent from Panama to the Pole, from the Bermudas to Hawaii," Scott declared, "and would operate the continent as a self contained balanced load unit."

Politicians Out

The Technocrats would dispense with politicians, capital, debt, and racketeers, he said. The country would be run by engineers guided by science and technology. Persons between the ages of 25 and 45 would be required to work 660 hours a year, 165 four-hour days. Currency would be eliminated. People would receive "energy units" for their labor, which must be spent within two years or lose their value. This, Scott maintained, would prevent under-consumption and the useless accumulation of wealth.

"The New Deal with its alphabetic recovery agencies," Scott described as "merely alphabetic soup, putting three letters together for national amusement. Every mastoid injection of PWA, RFC, and CWA funds is making inevitable a technological control of the country."

Describes Recent Era

A great increase in productivity accompanied by a swelling of the numbers of unemployed, was vividly described by Scott.

"In 1904, the first year for which automobile figures are available, it required 1,291 man-hours of labor to produce an automobile," Scott said. In 1933 about 71 man-hours was required. A study of other industries would reveal similar figures.

"There are about 13,500,000 unemployed in America today, including CWA workers. To this number will be added 1,200,000 high school and college graduates this June. Last year only 3.8 per cent of the professional graduates of our engineering schools were placed in positions for which they were trained."

While in Omaha Scott spoke before the Kiwanis club, the Y. M. C. A., and made a radio address over WAAW Sunday afternoon.

Kirkpatrick Speaks On 'Boulder Dam'

R. A. Kirkpatrick of the Union Pacific railroad gave an illustrated lecture on "Boulder Dam" at assembly in the auditorium this morning.

Will Speak on 'Fascism and Americanism' at Assembly; to Address Classes.

Alden G. Alley, professor of history at Dana college, Newark, New Jersey, will speak on "Fascism and Americanism" at assembly Friday morning, March 23, under the auspices of the International Relations club. Edwin Callin, club president, said Wednesday.

Tentative arrangements call for Mr. Alley to speak before the International Relations club at two o'clock, Thursday afternoon, in room 3, and before Dr. Edgar A. Holt's American history class at ten o'clock, Friday morning, in room 10C, Callin said. These meetings are open to the public, he added.

A representative of the National Council for Prevention of War, Mr. Alley is associated with Frederick J. Libby, executive secretary of the organization, who recently addressed a meeting sponsored by the International Relations club on "Disarmament."

Basketeers Slip After Early Lead Over Denver, A. C. Club in National A. A. U. Meet.

By JOE GREENSTONE

If Monday's first round game had been called at the half on account of darkness or somepun, the Card basketballers would still be at the National A. A. U. in Kansas City instead of in classes.

It was in the first half that the boys from Omaha showed the Denver Athletic club team a thing or two. Captain Patterson showed them some long-range shooting, and Captain-elect Curtis and Wink Wilkenson did their bit to put the Red Birds in front at the half, 21 to 17.

But, oh! that second half! In three minutes Denver had a 23-21 lead, and they kept it. It was a former Utah Aggie star named Campbell who spelled defeat for Omaha. He scored 22 points in the entire game—14 points coming in the second half. Omaha could not score until nine minutes had gone in the second half. The game ended 48 to 36.

Patterson was high for Omaha with 12 tallies. Curtis had 11 points and Wilkenson was in third place with 6.

WEST JUDGES CONTEST

Dr. V. Royce West, acting head of English and German departments at the University of Omaha, is a judge in a slogan contest being sponsored by the Brandels store and the Ford distributors in Omaha. A new Ford automobile is being given away every day this week.

W. A. A. RAFFLES RACKET

The Women's Athletic association is selling tickets for a fifteen-dollar Wright-Ditson Goldstar tennis racket, which will be raffled off April 20. Tickets are ten cents each. The proceeds earned in this way will be used to send a delegate to the W. A. A. convention.

One hundred and four students have surnames that begin with the letter "S".

Council Will Interview Sealock on Book Store

Two Members Will Discuss Matter With University President; Harriet Hicks, Dean's Secretary and Former Radcliff Student, Approves of Plan Suggested by Gateway.

HANSEN, BURKE TO SEE SEALOCK

The student council unanimously approved a resolution appointing two members to interview President W. E. Sealock to discuss the setting up of a co-operative student book store as outlined in a recent Gateway editorial, at a meeting in room 17, Thursday.

John Burke '34 and Dorothy Hansen '34 were the students named by President Woodrow Tietz to interview Dr. Sealock. They are to report to the council at next Wednesday's meeting.

Woerner and Council Will Discuss Finances

Troy Woerner '36, Gala Day chairman, will attend the meeting of the student council next Wednesday to discuss Gala Day financial arrangements. A committee from the student council will be appointed in the near future by Woodrow Tietz, council chairman, to supervise Gala Day finances. Tietz was empowered to do this at a meeting several weeks ago.

Girl Debaters Fail to Repeat

Tie With Two Other Teams for Second Place in Forensic Tourney in Hastings.

Omaha Municipal University's girls' debate team tied for second place in the Nebraska Intercollegiate forensic tournament held at Hastings college, March 8-10. Nebraska Wesleyan University and Nebraska Central tied for second with Municipal University.

In the boys' debate tournament, Nebraska Wesleyan won first place. The girls' team of Hastings college won first place in girls' debate.

Dr. Benjamin Boyce, Municipal University's debate coach, was one of the judges in the extemporaneous speaking contest.

Last year the girls' team from Omaha won first place in the tourney.

JOHNSON, JENKS RECITAL

Robert E. Johnson, '36, will play the piano and Hart Jenks, extension instructor, will give readings at a program presented by the young people's society of the First Presbyterian church next Friday evening, March 23, at 8 o'clock.

Johnson was winner of the William Rockhill Nelson scholarship in piano in 1932.

"RED CAT" WRITERS' CLUB

The "Red Cat" Writers' club, for the purpose of studying the problems of writing for publication, is being organized for evening students. Students interested are asked to leave their names and telephone numbers in the extension office.

The Women's Athletic association had a picnic at Carter Lake late Tuesday afternoon, March 13.

Says Radcliff Store Was Successful

A co-operative book store for Municipal University was enthusiastically approved by Miss Harriett Hicks, secretary to Dr. W. H. Thompson, dean of men, and a graduate student in psychology, in an interview Friday.

Miss Hicks formerly attended Radcliff college, where a co-operative student book store was operated in conjunction with Harvard university. She graduated from Michigan university in 1932.

Research Studies For FERA Funds

About Twenty Are Earning Federal Pay by Research Work Under Professors.

About twenty students are doing research work in various departments of the University under the Federal Employment Relief association allotment.

In the department of philosophy and psychology seven students are doing research work. Parley Rogers is compiling test questions for the beginning course in psychology, which will be used as a basis for the choice of tests in future work. Hugh Morton is compiling experimental work and data for Mr. Bradfield, assistant professor of psychology. Francis Nelson is collecting statistical work on examinations in the humanities. Noel King is compiling statistical information on class cards since the University became municipal. Marjorie Dustin and Robert Hoover are making a statistical report on examinations in the social sciences. Paul Brawner is also doing statistical work in the department of psychology.

DUNLAP MEMORIAL

DECISION of the senior class to add to the A. J. Dunlap memorial fund is a worthy move. School generations are short-lived, and it is altogether fitting that the students who had the pleasure of knowing Mr. Dunlap should make this demonstration of appreciation before graduating.

Mr. Dunlap was an indefatigable worker for the advancement of Omaha University, and was a prime mover in the campaign to make it a municipal institution. Even more important was his work as friend and counsellor of the students in the business department and indeed in the whole university.

An undergraduate scholarship in the business department would be the happiest choice for a memorial to Mr. Dunlap, but probably this is beyond the means of the senior class.

A bronze plaque inscribed, perhaps, with one of Mr. Dunlap's own poems, will also make an appropriate memorial.

A. A. U. DEFEAT

THE defeat of the University of Omaha basketball team in the A. A. U. tournament Monday does not indicate that the trip to Kansas City was without benefits to the team. Playing against first rate amateur teams of the country offers opportunities to the Cards for competitive experience which they cannot get in the course of their usual schedule. In view of the probability that the same athletes will represent Omaha next season, the experience is doubly valuable.

The Denver Athletic club's squad is reputed to include the two best players from every team in the Rocky Mountain conference. They out-sized the Omahans considerably. The past season was a good one, but it could have been improved. In Kansas City Coach Sed Hartman was given a chance to pick out the flaws in the performance of the team in fast competition. The members of the team found ways to better their technique. Next season Hartman will be back, Lowell Curtis will be captain, and most of the present quintet's regulars will be seniors. We'll be looking forward to it.

FIVE-DAY WEEK

A FIVE-DAY school week may be adopted at Massachusetts Institute of Technology. The faculty are considering a proposal to leave Saturday free "for study and research, as well as for cultural development and recreation."

We don't want to discourage the faculty in their worthy project, but knowing students we can't help but smile at the naive assumption they would spend a holiday doing research or acquiring culture.

But, what the hell, students are human beings! And going to college is much harder than going to lunch with a prospective customer, or dictating letters to a pretty blonde.

It's about time Tech adopted a civilized attitude toward both students and faculty, and give them Saturday off—for loafing.

Harriet Hicks, Former Radcliff Student, Tells of Store There

"Books, candy, sweaters, and athletic equipment are sold at the Radcliff-Harvard co-operative book store," Miss Hicks said. "In addition a lunch counter and a soda fountain are also operated under the same management."

Sell Used Books

With each purchase of twenty-five cents or more the student receives a receipt for the amount, she declared. At the close of the academic year, the student returns the receipts to the store, where he or she receives a check equal to ten per cent of the purchases made during the year.

"The book store serves as a clearing house for the sale of used books," Miss Hicks said. "The store makes no charge for this service. All second hand books in reasonably good condition are sold at two-thirds of the list price."

Student Help Employed

A one dollar deposit is required of all Radcliff students at the beginning of the school year for the book store, she declared. In return, the student receives a card with his or her name and a number on it. With every purchase of twenty-five cents or more, the student hands the card to the clerk, who makes a notation of the amount of the sale and the number of the card. The student receives a receipt with each purchase. At the close of the school year, the student is refunded the dollar deposit.

"Student help is employed at the Radcliff-Harvard book store," Miss Hicks stated, "thereby affording an opportunity for several students to earn a goodly portion of their school expenses each year."

Endorses Co-Operative Store
Miss Hicks believes that it would not be difficult to establish a co-operative student book store at Municipal University in view of the fact that so many of the faculty and student body have expressed their approval of the idea. "A co-operative book store meets with my approval," Miss Hicks said, "and I hope steps are soon taken to establish one here."

Mr. Frank Broadwell spoke on "Air Conditioning" before members of the Chemistry club last Friday.

Baccalaureate services will be held June 3.

CORRECT APPAREL FOR MEN AND WOMEN

That's All Over! And Am I Sore?

By HARRY WALSH

Sore and tender chest muscles resulted for most of the men in Assistant Physical Director Lee Grossman's gym classes as the first week of physical efficiency tests finished Wednesday, two days ahead of schedule.

Monday, Grossman gave his classes the push up test (pushing the body away from the floor). "Tiny" John Holyoke "pooshed 'em up" 63 times for the best mark. The lowest count was 8. The average was, for the nine o'clock class, 21 push ups; for the ten o'clock class, 25½; and for the two o'clock, 19.

Rope climbing tests were held Wednesday. Bennett Johnson held the record with a time of 4.2 seconds, while other good sailors were Schiller, 5 seconds; Marshall, 5.1; and Advers, Dixon, and Holyoke, 5.2. The average was nine seconds.

Next week, according to Grossman, the standing broad jump and running high jump tests will be given.

D. A. R. Sponsors Historical Contest

An essay contest sponsored by the Major Isaac Sadler chapter of the D. A. R. and by Miss Genevieve Clark, Central High school history teacher, was announced Monday.

Topics must be selected from a list posted on the bulletin board in Joslyn hall. The essays are due in President Sealock's office by May 5.

Fischer in 'Uncle Tom' at Playhouse

Howard Fischer, '34, plays the part of Phineas Fletcher in "Uncle Tom's Cabin," current production at the Community Playhouse.

Student tickets to the play may be secured through the English department at 50 cents for the evening performances and 35 cents for the matinee. Prof. V. Royce West, acting head of the department, announced Monday.

Mr. West is secretary of the board of directors of the Playhouse.

Athlete's Fancy Turns to Track

The ground is drying out. The days are getting longer. The sun is warmer. Basketball season is over. These evidences of spring turn the young man's athletic fancy to thoughts of track.

The prospects for a good track season do give the followers of the cinder path something to think about—what with the largest squad in the history of the school expected to turn out. To begin with there will be on hand for the first workout nine veterans. They are Howard Sorenson, Gene Hoover and Elmer Ossian, weight men; Bill Barrie, dash man; Clifford Anderson, broad-jumper; Leo Peary, hurdler; Joel Thompson, high jumper; and Neil Huff and Travis Dixon, distance runners.

Four new men expected to bolster up the squad are "Red" Olson, former Tech. High distance ace; Norman Sorenson, last year's South High weight man; Frederick Tyler, hurdler from Shenandoah High; and Kenneth Slump, miler from Red Oak High.

Others expected to report are Max Marcus, Roy Brown, and Warren Novak, high jump; John Williams, dashes; Bob Barbes, distances; Bob Race, pole vault; and Harold Johnk, weights.

There will be five veterans missing. They are Wilbur Wilhelm, broad jumper; George Hartman, shot putter; Ray Gehrig, and Charles Dickerson, dash men; and Harold Wilkes, weight man.

The Center Leaves have the finest Tobacco Quality that's why only center leaves are used in Luckies

The first thing people see and like about Luckies is how round and firm they are. The tobacco doesn't spill out and there are no loose ends to cling to lips. That's because we pack each and every Lucky full to the brim with long, even strands of the finest Turkish and domestic tobaccos—only the center leaves. Not the top leaves—because those are under-developed.

Not the bottom leaves—because those are inferior in quality. We use only the center leaves—because they are the mildest and fully ripe for perfect smoking. That's why Luckies always draw easily, burn evenly—and are always mild and smooth. So smoke a Lucky, a fully packed cigarette. And remember, "It's toasted"—for throat protection—for finer taste.

Not like

Even so..
you can say
Chesterfields are
"not like others"

NO two people in the world look alike... act alike. So it is with tobacco... just like folks.

No two leaves are the same.

And it's the same with cigarettes... no two brands are alike.

Furthermore, not only are the tobaccos different, but the way the tobaccos are handled is different.

This, you can understand.

You know just as well as we do that no two manufacturers use the same kinds of tobaccos, or blend them or cross-blend them or weld them together in the same manner.

We do everything that science knows and that money can buy to make CHESTERFIELD as good a cigarette as can be made.

We hope you like them. They are "not like others."
